

Veterans Transition Support

Free Access to Coursera.org for Veterans

Veterans Transition Support has partnered with Coursera.org to provide free access for Veterans, Active-Duty Service Members, Reservists and Military Spouses to more than 400 Specialization Certificates and over 8000 individual classes from colleges and corporations through the “Professional Development from Coursera.org” link on the Eventbrite page below:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/o/veterans-transition-support-7544018039>

Coursera.org is an effective platform to earn specialization certificates that enhance a resume and learn industry jargon at a very low cost. More than 20,000 veterans have used this program to access Coursera.org for free and many of the courses are stackable towards the college’s degree programs.

A few courses that translate military experience into civilian job skills include:

Supply Chain Management – Rutgers University, NJ

Engineering Project Management – Rice University, TX

Construction Management – Columbia University, NY

Patient Safety – Johns Hopkins University, MD

LEAN Six Sigma Green Belt & Black Belt– Kennesaw State

Healthcare Organization Operations, Rutgers, NJ

Cybersecurity – IBM, Univ of Colorado, Univ of Maryland, NYU

Google Project Management or Google IT Support, Google

IBM Artificial Intelligence, IBM

Please note that many government computers are blocked from Eventbrite so you may need to use a smart phone or personal computer to register***